ACTIVITY REPORT 2016

SHIP has had another successful year despite having to battle with the drought induced problems of food shortages. There was no rain at all during the whole year up to end of 2016, hence no crops. In addition the summer temperatures were soaring, burning everything above ground, even when watered. Towards the end of 2016 wells started to dry out too. People and animals were suffering. Fortunately WFP (World Food Program) was distributing rations on a monthly basis to most of the population of Shewula, but not everyone received according to their needs. This is where SHIP stepped in. We would like to thank everyone who supported us with funds and food. It made such a difference. But of course we continued, where possible, with our other projects.

From seeds to vegetables

Food distributions to locals

Australian Donors came to visit

In some cases a small amount helped to bridge the time until rations arrived, in other instances we had to continue our support. We were able to help a spectrum of the local community.

Finally our consignment of clothing arrived in October

JJ's son Lucky was born in November

Additional cement was donated to
